160 Hostages Rescued From Congo Rebels

By KENNETH L. WHITING

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—White mercenaries have rescued from 155 to 160 rebel hostages in a cotton-growing region about 260 miles north of Stanleyville, a Belgian Embassy spokesman said today.

The report came as the rebels fought back in Stanleyville, the fallen insurgent capital seized a week ago. The airport was closed by rebel fire and most of the city was reported in rebel hands.

A fourth American missionary was reported slain by the rebels —William McChesney, 28, Phoenix, Ariz. His parents in Phoenix said they had received reports from his organization, the World Wide Evangelical Crusade, that he was killed at Wamba.

The report of the latest rescue operation said most of those rescued were Belgian.

There was no word from a fifth U.S. missionary who remained in rebel territory at Bopepe. She is Mary Baker of Richmond, Va., whose unevangelized field mission is at Bala Cynwyd, Pa.

The hostages were freed at Dingila and Bambili in the northeastern Congo.

Some of the hostages have already been flown to Leopoldville.

Bambili and Dingila are in the heart of a cotton-growing region about 10 miles northwest of Buta, the mercenaries' operational base.

The embassy spokesmen said that the rescue reduced the number of Belgians still trapped by the rebels to about 250, although previous reports had said 500 to 1,000 whites remained after the Belgian paratroop rescue mission ended last week.

Most of these were said to be Belgians.

Congolese government troops, led by 30 white mercenaries, captured the town of Bunia Monday, north of Stanleyville, where several hundred white hostages were believed held.

None was found. It was believed they had been taken farther north by the rebels.

About 680 Belgian paratroopers who jumped into Stanleyville and Paulis last week and rescued between 1,500 and 1,700 whites returned to Brussels today. Their commander, Col. Charles Laurent, said the decision to terminate the rescue operation "appeared wise."

Laurent and other officers of his force agreed that the missing whites were scattered over too large an area for them to reach.

"The area held by the rebels is so big," said Laurent. "We operated where there was the largest number of whites."

But Antoine Sainttraint, a member of the Belgian Parliament who returned to Brussels today from Leopoldville and Stanleyville, accused the United States of ordering a premature end to the rescue operation.

The Belgian government said there was absolutely no pressure from the United States to end the operation. U.S. planes ferried the Belgians to and from Stanleyville. The Belgian government said it and the U.S. government had agreed the rescue operation could not be extended effectively beyond Stanleyville and Paulis.

Mountain View School Burns

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark. (AP)—Fire destroyed six high school classrooms and a gymnasium Monday at Pleasant Grove, 14 miles east of here, but no one was injured.

The fire broke out in the school office, next to a room where a typing class was being held. An estimate of the damage was not available.

A lunchroom and three classrooms in a separate building were not damaged.

Budget Higher, Sweeping Tax Hike Discussed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus told the Legislative Council today that general revenue requests for the coming biennium exceed the most optimistic estimates of tax collections by $6 million a year.

After giving the council this information, the governor said that perhaps the time has come for Arkansas to consider whether it is going to take another step forward as it did when the legislature enacted a general tax increase in 1957.

Faubus said after his talk to the council that he personally was not proposing a tax increase but that it would not hurt for the people to start thinking about the economic situation in the state.

"Do we want to be daring, enthusiastic, with vision for the future and come up with something to provide for the needs, or do we want to curtail the budgets to the amount of funds available?" Faubus asked the council.

"I wonder where the state would be if we hadn't stepped out in 1957," he said. "This is not a matter of budgets; it is a matter of policy and vision."

Then Faubus softened his proposal by saying, "We should never be spendthrifts but progress is held back more by miser than by spendthrifts. There is a happy balance. We don't want to be either."

Using a report prepared by the comptroller's office, Faubus told the council that revenue for the 1965-66 fiscal year is estimated at $144,304,000 and revenue for the 1966-67 year at $153,972,000 if revenues continue to increase at the same percentage of the average increase of the last six years, 6.7 per cent.

Faubus said revenues of $146,749,000 in 1965-66 and $157,902,000 in 1966-67 could be expected if revenues increase at the highest annual percentage during the last six years, 7.6 per cent, which was attained in 1958-59 and 1963-64.

Embezzling Now Is Billion Dollar Industry in the U.S., the Morning Mail Reveals

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Embezzling now is a billion-dollar industry in America. The typical embezzler is 36, has two children and has about a $150 a week salary.

Controversial Bobby Baker Case Again Before Senate Investigating Committee

Life Sentence Is Appealed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—James Surridge, 44, of near Rohrer appealed a life sentence for murder Monday to the state Supreme Court.

He was convicted in Desha County Circuit Court for the July shotgun slaying of Norman Dollar of McGehee. Surridge said he was elsewhere when the shooting occurred.

Seven in a Family Die in House Fire

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Seven brothers and sisters perished today in a fire which destroyed their East Baltimore home.

Police arrested the husband of the family about five hours later and obtained a warrant charging him with arson in connection with the fire.

Police said the husband, Kenneth A. Smith, 38-year-old truck driver, was booked for investigation of arson after he was arrested at a bar.

Court records showed that Smith's wife, Marian, had sworn out a warrant last week charging him with assault by threatening.

Police said they found a gasoline can in the house, and were told by a 15-year-old survivor that he had been pushed back into the burning house as he tried to escape. The boy escaped from another exit.

Mrs. Smith and four children survived. Deputy Fire Chief Roland Wett identified the dead as Janet, 1; Gary, 2; Kevin, 4; Annette, 6; Timothy, 7; Darlene, 8; and Vivian, 13.

Police said they were told by a neighbor of being awakened by the sound of breaking glass. The neighbor saw the fire and a man standing in front of the house, watching. Officers quoted the neighbor as saying the man just stood there as the children screamed.

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Star witness Don B. Reynolds opened new fields for inquiry in the Bobby Baker investigation today as he testified at a closed meeting of the Senate Rules Committee.

Hugh Alexander, committee counsel, told reporters Reynolds had agreed to disclose to the senators matters he had declined to discuss with their aides when they interviewed him Friday.

Alexander declined to discuss the nature of what he called the "extraneous matter" he said Reynolds was tossing into the committee's investigation of Baker and an alleged political payoff to the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson election campaign fund, main subject of the inquiry.

Alexander said the committee, as a result of these developments, had postponed scheduled start of public hearings at which Reynolds was tentatively scheduled to be the first witness.

Alexander said Reynolds was accompanied by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., and by his Washington lawyer, James Fitzgerald.

It was through Williams that Reynolds explored his allegations linking the names of Baker, a onetime influential Senate aide, and Democratic politician Matthew H. McCloskey of Philadelphia to an alleged $25,000 payoff, or "kickback" to the Kennedy-Johnson fund.

Alexander, addressing reporters outside the committee's closed doors, said the committee "decided to go into the extraneous matters" with Reynolds behind closed doors, and decide later "whether to go into these matters in public session."

He acknowledged that the committee did take up Reynolds' allegations concerning the purported payoff from a $17-million government contract McCloskey received for construction of the Washington D.C. Stadium.

McCloskey, ambassador to Ireland in the Kennedy administration, has denied knowledge of any payoff. Baker, in earlier hearings, invoked his constitutional privilege under the Fifth Amendment to refuse to testify on matters that might incriminate him.

The new round of hearings stems from a speech Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., made to the Senate Sept. 1. He charged that the alleged payoff came from the government contract a McCloskey corporation held for construction of the Washington, D.C., Stadium.

Quoting Reynolds, Williams said McCloskey paid the silver Spring, Md., insurance man $35,000 too much for a performance bond on the project, with Reynolds to keep $10,000 and the remaining $25,000 of the overpayment to be funneled through Baker into the Kennedy-Johnson fund. Federal law forbids corporations from contributing to political campaigns.

Republican committee members tried unsuccessfully to have the politically explosive investigation conducted during the presidential campaign. They were overruled by the Democratic majority.

Baker, who quit his $19,600-a-year government job in October 1963, served directly under President Johnson when Johnson was the Democratic leader of the Senate.

Reynolds has said he is eager to testify and there were indications he may attempt to spring some surprises from the witness stand.

Lennox P. McLendon, counsel to the committee, said Monday he interviewed Reynolds Friday about the alleged payoff but that Reynolds refused to answer some questions unless Williams was present.

Wants Permission to Paddle Students

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—The Chester Township School Board is seeking the permission of parents to paddle pupils for disobedience.

Robert F. Russell, acting president of the board, said Monday the board will send notices to parents this week requesting their consent. When consent is not granted, he said, pupils who are disciplinary problems will be expelled.

The action was taken after a committee teacher, Constance Brown, appeared in court Saturday on a charge of assault and battery.

New Viet Nam Policy to Be Decided Today

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson meets today with his top military and diplomatic advisers, including Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, to decide whether new steps should be taken to intensify the war against Communist guerrilla forces in South Viet Nam.

The long-debated issue of whether air strikes should be ordered against Communist supply lines through Laos or supply bases in North Viet Nam was reported up for discussion and possible decision.

Taylor, U.S. envoy to Saigon, has been conferring with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other policy makers since Thanksgiving and these officials presumably had their recommendations ready for the President in advance of the White House session.

For several days, however, administration leaders have been cautioning against speculation that radical changes in U.S. policy were in the offing. The President himself declared at a news conference last Saturday that he did not expect any "dramatic announcement" to follow today's meeting.

Informants said any decisions affecting the conduct of the war undoubtedly would be kept secret until they could be put into action.

Taylor said in advance of his return to Washington last Thursday that air strikes against the Red supply lines, which run from North Viet Nam through the jungles of Laos, and against infiltration bases in North Viet Nam could help overcome the Viet Cong drive for control of South Viet Nam.

He cautioned that there were arguments for and against such courses.

On reaching Washington, Taylor said that there were so many "variables" in the Vietnamese situation that no one program would provide the answer.

Officials said privately that the struggle has not been going well for the U.S.-supported South Vietnamese government, but they emphasized that in their view the problems are not primarily military but political.

Even as Taylor returned here the new civilian regime of Premier Tran Van Huong was under heavy pressure from dissident political elements, students and Buddhists, and was struggling for survival.

The United States has more than 20,000 military advisers in South Viet Nam and gives the country about $500 million a year in military and economic assistance. Whether aid should be increased or used in other ways are among the questions understood to be under review in the current round of conferences.

The major issue of whether to broaden the war presents the President with a complex problem. A major consideration is the possibility of increased counteraction from Communist North Viet Nam, backed by Red China, if Washington should order air strikes. The Soviet Union has warned it would not "remain indifferent to the fate of a fraternal Socialist country and is ready to render the necessary assistance."

Vicious cold weather predicted for Arkansas this morning abated somewhat, with temperatures well above the 5-degree minimum expected in the northern half but still well below freezing.

Slightly warmer weather was called for in the Weather Bureau's forecast for today and Wednesday. Overnight lows mostly in the 30s were predicted, with maximum readings both days mostly in the 40s.

Increasing cloudiness is forecast for Wednesday and the bureau said a low pressure system expected to develop over Colorado may bring rain to the state by Thursday.

Maximum temperatures Monday ranged from 29 degrees at Memphis to 42 degrees at Texarkana. Overnight low readings ranged from 15 at Gilbert to 24 degrees at Fayetteville.

Big 4 Meet Fails to Head Off a UN Dues Showdown

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A meeting of Big Four diplomats with Secretary-General U. Thant failed today to produce a formula for heading off a U.S.-Soviet showdown in the General Assembly over peace-keeping assessments.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko, however, said he believed the four and other key U.N. diplomats were close to agreement.

The U.N. announced the discussions would be resumed at 2:45 p.m. EST—just 15 minutes before the scheduled opening of the Assembly.

It appeared almost certain that the resumed negotiations would delay the opening.

Behind the scenes diplomatic activity was intense as the opening hour approached without a solution of the deadlock which created one of the gravest crises ever faced by the world organization.

Key figures in a noon conference in the secretary-general's office were U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson, Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko, British Prime Minister of State Lord Caradon and French Delegate Roger Seydoux. Others were the retiring assembly president, Carlos Sosa-Rodriguez of Venezuela, and Ambassador Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana, who is slated to be elected president of the assembly's 19th session.

Thant was understood to be trying to pin down an agreement on just what could be done to forestall a confrontation later in the day on the Soviet Union's refusal to pay U.N. peacekeeping operations.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko proposed that the opening meeting of the assembly's 19th session this afternoon confine itself to routine actions by acclamation. These would include election of Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana as president and perhaps of the 13 vice presidents, and the admission of Malawi, Malta and Zambia to U.N. membership. Then the assembly would recess for a day or two to allow more time for negotiations on the financial issue.

This would forestall a formal vote on which the United States could invoke Article 19 of the U.N. Charter. It provides that a U.N. member more than two years in arrears on its dues shall lose its vote in the assembly. The Soviet Union's refusal to pay peacekeeping assessments has put it in that category.

Informal sources doubted the United States would agree to the brief postponement. They said the United States wants a longer deferral of the matter and also

Highway Wins 1, Loses Another One

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Highway Commission won one case and lost another today in the Arkansas Supreme Court.

The high court reversed a Washington Circuit Court judgment in a highway condemnation case which the Highway Department had appealed. And it also reversed a Pulaski County case which the commission had won in the lower court.

In the Washington County case, the trial court had awarded $15,000 to Willa Sisson, the property owner, and $6,750 to the DX Sunray Oil Co., a leaseholder, for the taking of a 15-foot strip of property from a lot in Springdale.

The condemnation made it impossible for DX to continue to operate a service station on the property.

The Highway Commission contended in its appeal that the trial court erred in allowing Mrs. Sisson and the oil company three peremptory challenges each while the jury was being selected. The case was reversed on this point.

The Supreme Court said that Arkansas law provides the defendant a total of three peremptory challenges.

In the Pulaski case, Johnnie A. Myers received a $6,250 award for one-half acre of a two-acre tract condemned in connection with an Arkansas 5 construction project.

Myers had contended that the property was worth $100,000 and he appealed the judgment. The commission said the property was worth $2,000.

The Supreme Court said the trial court erred in requiring Myers to testify about the amount paid for the entire property in 1951.

This amount was $16,500.

The Supreme Court also said the lower court committed reversible error when it instructed the jury that the fair value of the property would be its fair market value at the time it was condemned.

The Supreme Court said that in many cases it is held that the fair market value holds only when an entire tract is taken and that in a suit where a portion of a tract is condemned, the defendant has the right to prove that he was damaged to a greater extent.

The court said the trial court should have followed the theory of weighing the value of the property before the takings against its value afterwards.

The Supreme Court affirmed a Washington Circuit Court order giving the F. W. Woolworth Co. of Fayetteville a directed verdict in a suit filed by Mrs. Goldie Miller, who contended she was injured in a fall at the Woolworth store Oct. 6, 1962.

The lower court held that Mrs. Miller failed to prove that negligence by the store contributed to her injury.

J. Edward Wise of Memphis, attorney for the National Labor Relations Board which is conducting the hearing, said the transcript would be sent to the NLRB at Washington for a decision.

GOPs Fail in Plan for Two Party System

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — After four years of strenuous effort to build a two-party system in the South, Republicans saw their strength at the state level decline in President Johnson's landslide victory.

"Operation Dixie," heavily financed by the Republican National Committee, was geared to establishing local GOP organizations capable of electing state officers and members of Congress as well as contributing electoral votes to Republican presidential candidates.

Although Sen. Barry Goldwater carried five Southern states and the GOP scored a net gain of four Southern House seats, Republicans lost ground at the local level where they were trying to broaden their base for the future.

A survey of 13 Southern and border states showed that in the Nov. 3 voting, Republicans lost a net of 31 seats in state Houses of Representatives. In the turnover they won 10 and lost 41 they previously held.

In state Senate races, they lost four seats and gained four, leaving them just where they were.

The states covered in figures compiled by the Senate Republican Policy Committee's staff as part of its breakdown of election returns included Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

Counting present lineups in Alabama, Kentucky, Louisiana and Virginia, which held no legislative elections this year, Republicans now hold less than 1 per cent of the House seats and slightly more than 8 per cent of Senate places in the various states.

The lower houses have 1,461 Democrats and only 117 Republicans. The count in state Senates is 457 Democrats, 40 Republicans.

In Mississippi, Georgia and South Carolina, all of which Goldwater carried, Republicans gained five state House seats and two Senate places.

Oddly enough in Tennessee, which Johnson carried, the GOP picked up four House and two Senate seats.

The Republicans suffered their greatest losses in the border state of West Virginia where Johnson racked up a 2-1 margin in the presidential race. There they dropped 15 House and three Senate seats.

Envoy Plans to Return to Congo

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Consul Michael Hoyt, for three months a prisoner of Congolese rebels at Stanleyville, says he "very definitely" would be willing to return to the Congo.

Hoyt and four other members of the U.S. Consulate staff in Stanleyville were rescued earlier this week as part of a U.S. Belgian paratroop operation that plucked hundreds of whites from the midst of rebels who were preparing to execute them.

The five arrived in Washington Thursday after a flight by military transport. They were greeted by Wayne Fredericks, deputy assistant secretary of state, and a small crowd of well-wishers.

Hoyt said the Congo insurgents first put him under house arrest at the U.S. Consulate but later confined him in a prison with no bed and poor sanitation.

When word came to the rebels that land forces of the central Congolese government were approaching Stanleyville, Hoyt said, they prepared to execute the whites they were holding as hostages.

"Certainly we had many doubts that we would get home alive," he said, adding that the swiftness of the joint rescue operation saved him and most of the other hostages.

Others of the hostages, including at least two Americans, were killed as the rebels herded the hostages into Stanleyville's Lumumba Square and started firing at them.

Hoyt and his four aides — Vice Consul David K. Grinwis of Maplewood, N.J.; communications officer Donald Parkes; and communications clerks Ernest Hule and James E. Stauffer — landed first at New York's Kennedy Airport before proceeding to Washington.

Hoyt was greeted in New York by his wife, Joy, of Tucson, Ariz., who rushed up to him and embraced him.

"I feel fine," he said. "It is wonderful to be back. I'm glad to be reunited with my wife on this Thanksgiving Day."

He said his most anxious moment was "when they started firing at us."

Upon his arrival here, Hoyt was asked if he would accept assignment to the Congo again. "Oh yes — I very definitely would go back," he said.

After reporting to the State Department today, Hoyt plans several weeks of rest with his family.

554 Deaths Over Thanksgiving

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's 554 traffic deaths during the extended Thanksgiving weekend was a record for the 102-hour holiday period.

The previous high since The Associated Press started counting traffic fatalities for the four-day holiday in 1958 was 543 last year.

This year's total averaged 130 deaths a day compared to an average of 126 daily during the first nine months of 1964. For comparative purposes The AP made a survey for a 102-hour non-holiday weekend and counted 468 traffic deaths.

The all-time traffic death toll for any 102-hour holiday period is 706, set in Christmas 1956.

Transportation equipment and metals industries by an annual rate of $1.5 billion.

Meanwhile, a threat of a strike by six railroad shop craft unions hung over the economy.

The walkout, set for 6 a.m. Monday, would cripple the entire railroad system. However, there were high hopes that the situation could be settled before the deadline.

Another railroad strike threat waned when the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers reached tentative agreement on a new wage contract.

Steel production dipped a bit during the week for the second week in a row. However, output remained near the fastest rate of the last 4½ years. The mills turned out 2,612,000 tons of ingots, 1 per cent below the preceding week.

Spurred by good corporate news, the stock market twice surged to new all-time highs. Among developments were 2-for-1 stock splits by Sears, Roebuck & Co., Eastman Kodak Co. and Coca Cola and Du Pont's distribution of its last 23 million shares of General Motors stock.

Price changes also made news.

The big Canadian papermaker, MacMillan, Bloedel & Powell cut its price of newsprint by $10 a ton from the $134 quotation that has been in effect since 1957. Other major newsprint producers were studying the move but hadn't followed.

Major aluminum producers raised their prices of unalloyed ingot by ½ cent a pound to 24½ cents and boosted most fabricated products by 1 cent a pound.

Budget Higher,

The revenue estimates compare with the actual collections of $126,751,000 in 1963-64 and an estimated income of $137,243,000 this fiscal year.

Budget requests from general revenues total $201,288,540. The governor has recommended appropriations of $191,298,132, of which $163,785,647 would have to come from general revenues.

This is an increase of $36,553,647 from the current general revenue allotment.

If Faubus has his way, most of the increase, $21,250,000, would go to the public school fund to grant a $1,000 increase in the average teacher salary.

The state Commission on Organization of Higher Education Finance has recommended that the University of Arkansas and seven state colleges receive an annual increase of $7,666,029.

Faubus said the $8 million disparity between budget requests and income exists even though the current figures do not include any increase in general revenue funds for the counties and the cities.

"Any increase in these funds will widen the disparity," Faubus said.

Faubus said the legislature has three alternatives: put more money in the pot by increasing taxes, but back budget requests to the amount of money available, or to appropriate the amount requested and let the Revenue Stabilization Act determine how much each agency will get from revenues which come in.

"I'll listen to any suggestions," Faubus said. "I'd be much happier to bring you a message that all problems are solved and say, 'Let's have a party tonight,' but that is never the case in government."

Faubus then urged legislators to ignore critics who might attempt to create a division between the legislative and executive branches of the state government.

"These are narrow-minded men who are not interested in progress and couldn't run the government if they had it," he said. "If we cooperate, they'll say I'm cracking the whip on you, and if we do not cooperate, they will say the government is without leadership. Go ahead and do your duty."

Faubus said he did not intend to bear grudges and curtail the budget of any agency because those running it oppose him. He made it clear here that he was talking about the University of Arkansas and perhaps some of the state colleges, because he said, "I won't be influenced by the attitude of some personnel in some institutions and the attitude of those they instruct."

Then he said, "How in hell some of these professors think they're going to get along with what they're teaching, I don't know. But they are going to be teaching your children and we've got to provide for them."

Faubus also got in a shot at one of his favorite targets, the Arkansas Gazette. He invited legislators to ignore the Gazette's "carping critics and little narrow viewpoint expressed either by the reporter or editorial writers" as he said he has always done.

Budget Director Julian Hogan told the council after Faubus left that if revenues come up to expectations this year, there will be a surplus of $7 million for the state construction fund.

Half of this money is earmarked for building at institutions of higher learning. The other half would be available for any other type of construction project which might be inaugurated by the general assembly.

Skeleton Identified by a Class Ring

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — A 1957 class ring from an Arkansas high school has led to the identity of a skeleton found last month near Las Plumas, Calif.

Craighead (Arkansas) County Sheriff Lonnie Cooper said Monday the ring, from Childress High School, was traced to T. W. Crabtree, who would now be 25. Crabtree had not been heard from in nearly four years.

He formerly lived in the Montette - Childress area of Craighead County. The Childress school no longer exists, having been incorporated into the Montette system three years ago.

A California newspaper said the skeleton was found Nov. 9 buried under a thin layer of silt in a dry creek bed by Alvin Gramps and Davis Mahan, both 15, of Yankee Hill, Calif. The paper said the boys were hunting when they came upon a wrecked car in a creek bed. The ## Icy Mass of Cold Air Hits Much of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A large mass of icy air spread across most of the eastern half of the nation today and the season's coldest weather chilled much of the Southland.

Freezing temperatures covered areas as far south as northern Florida and along the Gulf Coast. Below-zero marks were reported in northern Midwest areas but not as low as Monday morning.

A warming trend was indicated for much of the Midwest. The mercury failed to move much above zero in some parts of the northern Midwest Monday after early-morning readings as low as 31 below zero in Valley City, N.D.

Clear skies covered most of the southern half of the nation. The mercury dropped to 29 in Mobile, Ala., and Shreveport, La., 28 in Jackson, Miss., and 32 in Pensacola, Fla. It was 22 in Atlanta and 15 in Louisville. Miami's low was 54.

Snow flurries flecked scattered sections along the western slope of the Appalachians and along the southeastern shores of the Great Lakes. Snow flurries also fell in the northern Rockies and light snow spread across the northern Plains.

In the West heavy rains doused areas in the northern half of the Pacific Coast. Strong winds hit some areas.

a Soviet commitment to negotiate on future peacekeeping arrangements.

Secretary-General U. Thant had proposed such a temporary solution providing for the assembly to take up only noncontroversial matters on which there was unanimous agreement until its Christmas recess. This would permit negotiations until February, when the Christmas recess ends.

Gromyko rejected Thant's proposal Monday, saying the Soviet Union "categorically opposes" postponing important matters on the assembly agenda "for a long period or indefinitely." He said his government "believes the General Assembly should start and continue its work in accordance with normal procedure."

The Soviets have threatened to quit the United Nations if they lose their vote in the assembly. They contend that only the Security Council has the power to start and finance peacekeeping operations and that the peacekeeping assessments for the Congo and Middle East operations are illegal because they were voted by the General Assembly.

Gromyko met for lunch Monday with U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk. They described their talk as inconclusive, but agreed to meet again when Rusk returns from talks in Washington today on Viet Nam.

U.S. sources said that in addition to the voting dispute, Rusk and Gromyko discussed a long-pending proposal to destroy equal numbers of obsolete Soviet and U.S. bombers, and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's bid for more Soviet-U.S. trade. The sources said no particular headway was made on either matter.

Well, we are back at work, we have been over the river, and thru the woods and another lovely and blessed Thanksgiving Day has been celebrated.

And now is the time for... the great deception. This has to do with the turkey that was left over. We are safe the first few days, everybody in their right mind knows it will be just plain turkey, warmed over, dressing and all. But after that we start the camouflage. Turkey salad, a-la-king... we even make a soup from the carcass, good too. A group of us were discussing it the other night and wondered if there was a woman anywhere, brave enough to serve a sirloin steak the day after. The men mentioned something about a citation for such a deed but the women voted it down... said HE would be expecting left-over turkey and he might just as well get it! This year we don't have to worry about left-over turkey as we spent Thanksgiving in Pine Bluff with Paula, David and boys.

But we are concerned with some other left-overs at the shoppe. A group of fall and winter dresses, lovely and wearable, just what is needed to give your wardrobe that extra lift for the holiday season.

In order to make room for Christmas merchandise which is arriving every day, we are having a clearance sale on coats tailored or fur trim, on better dresses. An excellent time to get a bargain in something really different. Make your selection today!

We also have a limited number of suits in this sale, not all sizes but perhaps just the one you want. Fine woollens, double knits, two and three piece styles.

Because of the drastic reductions, we must ask that all sales be final, come early, take your time, choose your coat, suit and dress at our After-Thanksgiving sale, this week only.

We hope to be seeing you at Raley's Style Shoppe, Hope's House of Fashion.

The minutes were read and the treasurer's report given by Nancy Stephenson. New officers were elected for the coming year as follows: president, Robert Cash; vice-president, Tommy McGhee; secretary-treasurer, Nancy Stephenson; assistant secretary-treasurer, Helen McCorkle.

"DEAR ABBY"

MEOW!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: I received a clipping from your column in this morning's mail. It was about a neighbor who had a houseful of cats. The house smelled to high heaven, there were cat hairs all over the furniture and the place was filthy, and for that reason nobody wanted to visit her.

Well, I must be that person, because I do have a houseful of cats, but I would like to say something.

Half of these cats are not mine! It seems that when anyone in this town wants to get rid of a cat, or some new-born kittens, they drop them off in my yard because they know I love cats and I will give them a good home. I called the Humane Society once to come and pick up some cats that weren't mine. They came out, but were unable to catch them. Now, if you can tell me how to get rid of cats that are not mine, I will be glad to do so. I will not destroy them.

CAT LOVER IN PHOENIX

Dear Abby: There are worse people than cat-lovers, you know. I am referring to people who tear something out of a newspaper and mail it to someone without signing their name.

Someone mailed me your column. In it was a letter about a neighbor who lived alone except for a houseful of cats. They said the house stank, the furniture was filthy, there were cat hairs all over the place and that was the reason nobody ever wanted to visit the woman. They went on to say that the woman herself was a very nice person and they didn't want to hurt her feelings by telling her. Well, Abby, in the first place, I do not have a "houseful" of cats. I have only 16. In the second place, if I wanted company I would invite them. I do not miss people. My cats are better friends to me than any of my neighbors.

Two of the motions overruled asked that the first-degree murder charge be dismissed, one asked that four special jury panels be quashed and one

Chinese Plan for Congo Hit a Hard Blow

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The United States may take a propaganda bating in Africa, but the rout of Congolese rebels at Stanleyville likely has damaged a key Chinese Communist enterprise.

The Congo developments may even aggravate the already bad relations existing between the Soviet regime and Peking.

In the long view, interruption of Peking's plans to gain a foothold in Africa's most critical area may prove more important to the West than the bruised feelings of leaders of new African nations.

The Congo developments strengthen an already strong impression that the Peking campaign in Africa has been directed against the Soviet Union as well as the United States and the West.

This may explain why Moscow seemed slow in reacting to the events, which easily could have mushroomed into a big international crisis as soon as the Kremlin heard of plans to use U.S. transport planes to ferry Belgian troops to the rebel capital at Stanleyville.

Ordinarily, U.S. involvement against a left-oriented rebellion would have produced clamor and threats from Moscow. This time the response was mild.

Time and again Peking has challenged Moscow in Africa.

Only last week in a violent attack on supporters of the fallen Nikita Khrushchev — an assault obviously aimed at men still in power in Moscow — Red China accused the Russians of perfidy in the Congo.

This was an attack on the peaceful coexistence policy which the new Soviet regime says it will continue. Under this policy, the Red Chinese insisted, Khrushchev — meaning the whole Soviet leadership — "instructed the Soviet delegate at the United Nations to vote for the dispatch of forces of aggression to the Congo, which helped the U.S. imperialists suppress the Congolese people, and used Soviet transport facilities to move so-called U.N. troops to the Congo."

Red China, busy for some time trying to shut the Russians out of revolutionary movements in Asia and Africa, appears to have made Africa the main cold war arena. All Red Chinese embassies in Africa seem lavishly supplied with money to buy subversion.

Peking's plan appears to have been to entrench a usable Communist government in the Congo, Africa's heart, and work from there toward domination of other areas. If this was the case, the timetable now may be badly upset.

Helena Plant to Add a Unit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A unit capable of producing 500,000 kilowatts of electricity will be added to the Arkansas Power & Light Co. steam-electric generating station at Helena.

The firm said the unit, one of the world's largest, will cost some $40 million and is scheduled for completion by early 1958.

To Modernize the Church of England

By GODFREY ANDERSON

LONDON (AP) — Will Britain's new prime minister seek to modernize the Church of England?

Some of the clergy think he will. They contend an unreformed Church would stand out like a sore thumb in the kind of Britain he is aiming at.

Although a Congregationalist himself, Harold Wilson by his office now is largely responsible for ecclesiastical appointments in the Church of England, the state established church. Bishops, cathedral deans, even some canons and lesser clergy are appointed by the monarch on Wilson's nomination. He could change the look of things by picking young men to the now aging bench of bishops.

There are 43 diocesan and 40 suffragan bishops in the Church of England today. The oldest is the 74-year-old Bishop of Sodor and Man; the youngest the 49-year-old Bishop of Southwell. Their average age is around 60. There is no fixed retiring age.

To be a bishop in the Church of England you must be "a learned presbyter" — priest — at least 30 years old, born in lawful wedlock, and of good life and behavior.

You will be addressed as right reverend and have the legal style of "my lord bishop." You may marry but, if you do, your wife will have no title or precedence at public functions. In rank you will be above a baron and below a viscount, marquess, earl or duke.

The two archbishops — Canterbury and York — sit with 24 of the other bishops in the House of Lords as spiritual peers. The bishops of London, Durham and Winchester sit there by right of their sees; the others by seniority of their consecration to the episcopacy.

It may fall to Wilson to appoint successors in several sees. He will get plenty of advice from the Archbishop of Canterbury downward whenever a vacancy occurs. But he doesn't have to follow it.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - Charlton Heston, who likes it here, is making his first all-California movie since "The Big Country" seven years ago.

He would like to spend more time in the land of his adoption, but he has this problem. Producers don't see him as a 20th century man.

"All the good modern parts go to Jack Lemmon and Cary Grant," he laments.

"That leaves Heston with pictures like "The Ten Commandments," "Ben-Hur," "El Cid" and "The Agony and the Ecstasy."

Feel like shedding tears for poor Chuck Heston?

Me neither. Heston admits he has a pretty good thing going for him. If this be type-casting, he's making the most of it.

Right now he's back in the 11th century, the era of "El Cid." This time he's a bit north, playing a Norman warrior in "The War Lord." The film has been shot on location near Marysville, Calif., and is now working at Universal City, where a feudal tower has been constructed inside a stage and on the back lot.

Cost of "The War Lord": $5 million.

The 11th century is lucky for Heston. "El Cid" provided more income for him than any other film. "Ben-Hur" and "The Ten Commandments" are two of the three all-time moneymakers, but not for him; he didn't share in the profits.

On the other side of the ledger is the unreleased "Major Dundee," for which he returned his $200,000 salary as justification for his arguments over the script. He has no regrets over

I mailed a report to the police and then I went back to my hotel. At 9:30 the next morning, the phone rang dragging me out of my pleasant sleep. I lifted the receiver, which felt like a ton, and said hello.

"Morgan," a voice bellowed in my ear, "This is McGruder. What do you mean Emery has left town?"

"How many things could it mean?" I asked.

"Where did Emery go?" "Out," I said firmly. "You expect me to solve all your cases for you? Besides, it's not even your case. The Federal charge has priority."

"If he's gone, I want to know where he went."

"I'll send you a postcard when I find him," I said.

"Inspector Morgan, I've tried to co-operate with you."

"Wrong again," I said, "if anyone scared Emery out of town it was you. A general bulletin on Pete Jackman, a tail on his girl friend."

"There's a lot of pressure on me. This morning we found that the number of checks cashed adds up to $20,000."

"He's taken more than three times that amount from the government, and he's still operating."

"Okay, okay. We picked up Jackman last night."

"Congratulations. Why don't you ask him all these questions?"

"We haven't gotten anything out of him yet. But we will before we're through with him."

"I am sure you will, Lieutenant. But I'll give you ten to one that he doesn't know a thing that will help you. And don't tell me it's against the law to bet."

"All right. Will you keep in touch, Inspector?"

"If I'm in the neighborhood," I snapped. And then I hung up. I looked at my watch. It was a quarter to 10. I picked up the phone again and called the Post Office. I asked for George Dundus. There wasn't much enthusiasm in his voice when he answered.

"I think I got some information. Emery has supposedly left town. I want you to do a favor for me."

"What?"

"He was using the name Emery Richards here. Check the airlines for me and see if anyone made a reservation under that name yesterday morning for San Francisco. Or anywhere else. Call me back."

"All right," he said. I put the receiver down and was asleep at almost the same instant.

I was dragged from sleep again at 12 o'clock. I managed to get the receiver off the hook and after two or three misses found my ear with it.

"Yeah?" I said.

"This is George," he said. "There was an Emery Richards on a flight to San Francisco yesterday morning."

I groaned. "I was hoping it wasn't true. Now I have to start all over again at the bottom of the ladder."

"What can I do, Blake?"

"Nothing, I guess. I'll be in soon." I hung up and resisted the temptation to go back to sleep for just a few minutes. I called room service and told them to send up scrambled eggs his decision.

"I'm glad it was made on location in Mexico," he said. "At least I got my meals paid for."

Crime Increase in All Phases

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Nearly every category of crime increased in Little Rock during the first three quarters of 1964 except murder and non-negligent manslaughter, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said today.

The number of murder and manslaughter cases decreased from nine in 1963 to five this year, the report said.

Other crime incidents reported by the FBI, by type of crime, the number of occurrences in 1964 and the number in 1963, were:

Forcible rape, 8, 13; robbery, 48, 103; aggravated assault, 37, 160; burglary or breaking and entering, 742, 1,003; larceny $50 and over, 584, 908; auto theft, 229, 405.

The FBI said crime in the 10 and one-half months has been, I think, "The Louvre" last week.

Dick Van Dyke and Danny Kaye split my vote for "best television performer," although "The Danny Kaye Show" must share my top honors in the variety category with "Hollywood Palace."

"Bonanza," the perennially front-running horse opera, is probably the most interesting Western week in and week out.

Lucille Ball still has no television peer in her special area of comedy while Bob Hope remains king in his. Andy Williams is the most engaging vocalist and his program, in color, is a delight to the eye.

Robert Vaughn of "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." and Jim Nabors of "Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C." are the two brightest new male series stars, while Elizabeth Montgomery of "Bewitched" must take the blue ribbon in the distaff comedy division.

The national Nielsen ratings, television's semi-official measure of programs' success or failure, were made public Monday. They cover a two-week period, including Election Day.

The 10 most popular programs - exclusive of NBC's election night coverage, which won the lion's share of the audience - were listed by Nielsen in this order: "Bonanza," "Bewitched," "Ed Sullivan Show," "Red Skelton Show," "Dick Van Dyke Show," "Peyton Place" (Thursday night episodes), "The Virginian," "Andy Griffith Show," "The Adams Family" and "The Munsters" in a tie.

United States rose 13 per cent during the nine-month period.

Space scientists are looking into feasibility of an Earth-to-Venus-to-Mars-to-Earth trip, according to Britannica Book of the Year.

Porker Coach Disappointed at Rating

By ALVIN SCHAY
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — "We had hopes, we tried," speaking in a slow, tired voice Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles didn't try to hide the disappointment when he heard Arkansas came one spot short of the 1964 national football championship.

Alabama was named No. 1 in the Associated Press' final poll of the college season today. "It's a letdown, I had hoped that we might slip in," he said. "I'm disappointed for our players and wonderful fans. The national title would have made it a storybook finish," Broyles said. Arkansas went 5-5 in 1963. But then the Georgia native who had just guided Arkansas to its first 10-0 season brightened.

"If we're not first, I'm happy we're second," he said. "Second is an honor also."

Broyles spent most of Monday alone in his office in the university's Barnhill Field House, nervously waiting to hear if Southwest Conference champion Arkansas had made No. 1.

His other coaches were on the road, so the time went slowly. Broyles said he doesn't smoke or drink coffee, but is pretty good at chewing his fingernails in tense times.

How did he feel when word reached him? "Naturally you have a let-down when you want something so badly," Broyles said. "I really thought we had a good chance."

Broyles said he kept thinking what the top rating would mean to the state and to the university athletic program.

In the final AP tabulation, Alabama had 51½ points and 34½ first place votes; Arkansas had 48½ points and 11½ first place votes.

Asked if he thought Arkansas could reach the top next year, Broyles said he didn't want to look past the Razorbacks' Cotton Bowl date with Big Eight Conference champion Nebraska.

He said the Razorbacks would be trying for the Grantland Rice Trophy, awarded by the Football Writers Association of America after bowl games to the team the association thinks is No. 1.

Texas, whose only loss was to Arkansas, meets Alabama in the Orange Bowl.

One advantage of Arkansas' second-place finish is that it may get the Razorbacks a good rating at the start of next season. Broyles said he thought if Arkansas had been rated fairly high at the time of the 14-13 Texas upset (when Texas was ranked first), Arkansas might have been No. 1. Arkansas was rated eighth then.

"We might have been replaced by Notre Dame, but we could have gotten it back," he said.

Battle Lines Drawn in Pro Grid Draft

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The battle lines are drawn and the $5-million war is on between the National Football League and the American League for Dick Butkus, Gale Sayers, Steve DeLong, Jack Snow, Joe Namath and the other prize collegians drafted over the weekend.

With 22 clubs involved—14 in the NFL and eight in the AFL—backed by television millions, it is not unreasonable to expect that each will go for $250,000 to sign the campus heroes.

The NFL struggled from 9 a.m. Saturday morning until 12:10 p.m. Sunday in a record 27-hour, 10-minute draft that covered 20 rounds and 280 players. Most of the same men were picked by the AFL in their 16-hour, 40-minute draft that ran from 8 a.m. Saturday to 12:40 a.m. Sunday.

The entire draft was conducted by telephone with a club representative in New York taking instructions from the home office.

Butkus, the fine linebacker from Illinois, can sift out offers from the Chicago Bears of the NFL and the Denver Broncos of the AFL. DeLong, the 243-pound Tennessee lineman, was a first-round pick of the Bears and San Diego. Sayers, Kansas back, is a prize for the Bears or Kansas City. Elkins, the Baylor pass catcher, is up for grabs between Houston and the Green Bay Packers.

Namath, selected on the first round by the St. Louis Cards and New York Jets, can't sign until after the Orange Bowl game with Texas. Snow, the batterymate of Notre Dame's John Huarte, was Minnesota's No. 1 pick and San Diego's seventh.

Oakland signed Harry Schuh, Memphis State tackle, its first-round pick and Buffalo got its No. 1 draft, Jim Davidson, Ohio State tackle.

Detroit grabbed two first-round AFL picks, signing both Tom Nowatzke, Indiana fullback, and Jerry Rush, Michigan State tackle. The Jets lost Nowatzke and Boston had picked Rush.

The New York Giants, desperate for a running back, passed up Butkus and took Tucker Frederickson, Auburn back, as the NFL's No. 1 selection. The Giants signed him and also drafted Chuck Mercein, Yale fullback, Bob Timberlake, quarterback of Michigan's Rose Bowl team; and Henry Carr, the Olympic sprint champion from Arizona State.

In addition to Frederickson, other first-round NFL choices signed were Clarence Williams, Washington halfback and defensive ace (Los Angeles) and Mike Curtis, Duke fullback and linebacker (Baltimore).

Craig Morton, the California quarterback who has been called the best pro prospect in the nation, was drafted first by the Dallas Cowboys but didn't go until the 10th round in the AFL when Oakland picked him. Huarte, the Heisman Trophy winner, was selected No. 2 by the Jets and in the sixth round by Philadelphia's Joe Kuharich.

Burnett Leads Hope Cagers Over Nashville

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Writer

Opening their season in the right way, the Bobcats swamped the Scrappers 55-30 last night at Nashville.

Paced behind big guns Jerry Burnett and Andy High, the Cats commanded a 26-13 half-time advantage and the outcome of the match was never in doubt, at least to the Hope fans. Some of the more hearty Nashville supporters didn't see things in quite the same light.

Burnett was high pointer for Hope with 20 points. High had 16, Dennis Ramsey 6, Jim Johnson 5, Mike Archer 4, and Ronnie Ingram and Larry May 2. Shofner had 15 for the Scrappers.

The Lady Cats won their second game of the year by a 58-51 decision in the warm-up bout. Phyllis Martin led the scoring with a big 32 points. Shirley Smith had 10, Becky Lewis 8, and Debbie Connolly 6.

This Saturday night will open the home court season when the Bobcats take on an experienced Lewisville five. The Lady Cats will complete the card.

The Hope Junior girls teams take on Fouke at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the Bradley meet.

Pork Cagers Open Against Kansas Five

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Highly-regarded Kansas takes on Arkansas here tonight as the Razorbacks open their 1964-65 basketball season.

The Porkers are interested in getting ready for the Southwest Conference race, but Coach Glen Rose has high hopes of an upset over the taller Jayhawks.

Kansas will send 6-foot-1 lettermen Walt Wesley to the center position against Arkansas 6-foot-8 Ronald Cooper, a junior college transfer.

Other Arkansas starters are lettermen guards Ricky Sugg (6-1) and Steve Rousseau (5-9), and forwards J. D. McConnell (6-5) and John Talkington (6-5). Kansas will start guards Del Lewis (6-1) and Riney Lochmann (6-5) and forwards Ron Franz (6-6½) and Al Lopez (6-5).

an ex-Notre Dame coach.

Among the signings were Tom Myers, Northwestern quarterback, by Detroit; Archie Sutton, Illinois tackle, by Minnesota; Vern Biggs, Jackson State defensive end, by the Jets; Gus Otto, Missouri fullback, and Rich Zecker, Utah State tackle, both by Oakland.

Razorbacks Listed No. 2 Team in U.S.

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama's all-conquering Crimson Tide was named the national collegiate football champion today, edging out unbeaten Arkansas by a paper-thin margin in the balloting by a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Mighty 'Bama, which was supposed to be in a building year, gained 34½ first-place votes and 51½ points on the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third and so on.

Arkansas received 11½ first-place votes and 48½ points — it was second on practically all the other ballots—with one selector splitting his first-place vote between the two contenders on this last of the weekly Associated Press polls.

Notre Dame, the leader for the last few weeks and deprived of a storybook finish by last week's 20-17 upset by Southern California, was third with 44½ points and six first-place votes. Big Ten champion and Rose Bowl-bound Michigan got the other three first-place votes and finished in fourth place with 40 points.

Paul (Bear) Bryant, the Alabama coach, had maintained all along that 'Bama deserved the top spot.

"We've bet the best when they were at their best," Bryant said when the Tide finished their season Thanksgiving, completing a 10-0 season against capable, upset-minded Auburn. And then, last Saturday, after then top-ranked Notre Dame suffered the upset of the year at the hands of Southern Cal and No. 2 Alabama appeared to be the heir apparent, he commented:

"Our kids have earned the No. 1 ranking. It would be a shame to lose out now."

Alabama, which had 45 sophomores in its 76-man spring-training squad and was experimenting with the three-platoon system for the first time, faced the toughest Southeastern Conference schedule of any team in a decade.

The Tide, with quarterback Joe Namath doing the job when he was available and a variety of players picking up the slack when he wasn't, entrenched behind their usual rock-hard defense and stormed through a 10-game season undefeated.

In order, they beat Georgia 31-3, Tulane 36-6, Vanderbilt 24-0, North Carolina 21-0, Tennessee 19-8, Florida 17-14, Mississippi State 23-6, Louisiana State 17-9, Georgia Tech 24-7 and Auburn 21-14.

Arkansas, under Coach Frank Broyles, meanwhile, also was going through 10 games unblemished. The Porkers, who have never won a national championship, got by Oklahoma State, Tulsa, Texas Christian and Baylor, then reached their peak with a 14-13 triumph over previously unbeaten, then top-ranked and defending national champion Texas.

Their brilliant defense, a perfect complement to the offense on an excellently balanced team, shut out the last five opponents, Wichita State, Texas A&M, Rice, Southern Methodist and dangerous Texas Tech.

Even with that brilliant record, however, the Porkers never reached the No. 1 spot and spent most of the last half of the season in the No. 3 spot.

"We had hopes," Broyles said after learning the results of the final poll. "We had hopes. If we're not No. 1, I'm happy to be second. Second is an honor, too, you know. But I had hopes we might slip in. It's a let-down."

The key to the whole thing, of course, was Southern California's upset of Notre Dame in both teams' final game of the season.

The Irish, among the national also rans for several seasons, had lured Ara Parseghian from Northwestern to rebuild their football fortunes and the youthful Armenian had forged a 9-0 record and the No. 1 ranking going into the game.

But Southern Cal storm from behind a 17-0 deficit, beat the Irish and set up the ballot duel between Alabama and Arkansas.

Both Alabama and Arkansas have major bowl dates. 'Bama meeting fifth-ranked Texas in the Orange Bowl and the Razorbacks going against sixth-ranked Nebraska in the Cotton Bowl.

The final Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses, won-loss records and points:

- Alabama (34½) 10-0 51½
- Arkansas (11½) 10-0 48½
- Notre Dame (6) 9-1 44½
- Michigan (3) 8-1 40
- Texas 9-1 32½
- Nebraska 9-1 32
- La. State 7-1 205
- Oregon State 8-2 133
- Ohio State 7-2 107
- Southern Calif. 7-3 63

Fighters Go to England for Big Gate

By GRANVILLE WATTS
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — With weekly boxing knocked out of television in the United States, American fighters are journeying to England for the big money these days.

Light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano of Miami cashed in about $65,000 for stopping Terry Downes in the 11th round of a title defense at Manchester Monday night. Then he promptly offered Britain's boxing bookmaker another shot at the crown in London early next year. Terry may take it.

There aren't many pay days like that awaiting wily Willie back home.

Pastrano then headed for London to watch welterweight champion Emile Griffith of New York take on British lightweight king Dave Charnley in a non-title 10-rounder tonight.

Griffith, who picked up $56,000 in London only last Sept. 23 in an easy conquest of Welshman Brian Curvis in a title defense, will collect upwards of $10,000 against Charnley at Wembley Stadium's indoor arena.

Griffith is a 2-1 favorite over the Briton.

The New Yorker, a strong puncher, figures to come in at 148 pounds — one over the welter limit — and have about a 10-pound weight advantage.

Pastrano, a 7-4 favorite over Downes, appeared to be trailing going into the 11th round of their 15-rounder.

Then the normally light-hitting champion opened up with a barrage of punches that twice dropped the former co-holder of the middleweight title. Referee Andy Smyth of Ireland stopped it at 1:17 of the 11th after counting to three. Downes was down for eight the first time.

Downes has a $700,000 stake in a string of betting shops and doesn't need the money he makes boxing. But he wants to win an undisputed title and may take up Pastrano's offer for the return.

The aggressive, free-swinging Briton was ahead 5-3 in rounds, with two even, on The Associated Press' scorecard for the completed 10 rounds. Per custom, referee Smyth's card was not disclosed.

Pastrano weighed 174½ pounds to Downes' 171½. Pastrano's record is 63-12-8 including 13 knockouts. Downes, stopped for the sixth time, has a 35-9 record.

Battle Is on in Pro Grid Player Draft

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Illinois linebacker Dick Butkus apparently is leaning heavily toward the National Football League but the rival American League is leaning on Alabama quarterback Joe Namath.

The lure for Namath may be a salary-bonus package in the neighborhood of $150,000 and the possibility he might step in quicker as a first-string quarterback in the AFL.

Namath was made the No. 1 pick of the New York Jets in the AFL and the St. Louis Cardinals in the NFL. The Cardinals, however, have one of the best young quarterbacks in the league, Charley Johnson. The Jets have Dick Wood, an inconsistent performer.

Weeb Ewbank, coach of the Jets, said Monday that Namath has "the potential of being another Johnny Unitas."

Ewbank should know. He unveiled Unitas at Baltimore. "We want this boy real bad,"

If Good No Matter Where You Play

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If you are good, it doesn't matter much just where you play.

Take the case of Jerry Cole, Southwest Texas State football player, as an example.

A year ago the 6-foot, 4-inch athlete was named as an end on The Associated Press Little College All-America team. Today he is a defensive halfback on the 1964 aggregation. There were times during the past season when Cole was used at end, but most of the time he was busy bringing down opposing ball carriers.

Cole is the only repeater from 1963 to make this year's star-studded lineup. For the first time since 1953, The Associated Press has picked both a defensive and an offensive platoon from among the heroes who star for the smaller colleges.

The colleges may be small, but the athletes are not. The offensive line averages 228 pounds a man and their height is 6 feet, 2½ inches. The ball carriers weigh 189 and are 6-1. The defensive line figures are 221 and 6-2 while the backs are 181 and 6 feet.

The two platoons are marked by four massive tackles. Alphonse Dotson of Grambling, is the biggest at 288 pounds and 6 feet, 5 inches. He is on the offensive line along with William Fuller of Sacramento state, who is 240 and 6-4.

The defensive twins are John (Detour) Smith of Maryland State (6-3 and 245) and Robert Burles of Willamette (6-3 and 220).

The offensive backfield is made up of Charles Green of Wittenberg, at quarterback; William Cline of East Carolina and Gerald Allen of Omaha at the halfback posts and Randy Schultz of the State College of Iowa at fullback.

Green, whose team was The Associated Press' small-college team of the year, has the unique distinction of playing on teams that went unbeaten the past six years. He was quarterback of the West Milton, Ohio, High penditures reported today.

The largest increases during the month were in the Post Office Department, with a jump of 8,820, and the Commerce Department, with 1,685, the committee said.

The biggest decreases were in the Army, which cut its civilian payroll 1,733, and the Interior Department, with a 907 drop.

Rose Bowl Fever Hits 2 Campuses

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Rose Bowl fever gives way to hoop-la on the Michigan and Oregon State campuses tonight when the Wolverines, early favorites to succeed UCLA as the nation's No. 1 college basketball team, entertain little Ball State and the Beavers, under new coach Paul Valenti, meet highly rated San Francisco in key season openers.

More than 50 major games are scheduled on the campaign's formal opening date, Michigan and Oregon State, whose football teams meet at Pasadena, Calif., New Year's Day, share the spotlight with Southern powers Duke and Davidson.

Michigan will field a veteran team, led by Bill Buntin and Cazzie Russell, which narrowly outpointed UCLA's defending champions in The Associated Press pre-season poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Following their opener against Ball State, the Wolverines face a major test at Duke Friday night. The Blue Devils, No. 5 in The AP poll, beat Michigan in the NCAA semifinals last March.

San Francisco, No. 9 in the pre-season balloting, meets an Oregon State club rebuilding after the loss of 7-foot Olympian Mel Counts. Valenti replaces Slats Gill as the Beavers' pilot.

Fourth-ranked Davidson and fifth-ranked Duke open tonight against Wake Forest and Virginia Tech, respectively. Other major powers in action include Minnesota vs. South Dakota State; North Carolina vs. Clemson; Bradley vs. Northern Michigan; Kansas vs. Arkansas; St. Louis vs. North Dakota and Notre Dame vs. Lewis.

UCLA, which has lost All-America Walt Hazzard but retains sharpshooting Gail Goodrich, puts its 30-game winning streak on the line Friday night at Illinois. Third-ranked Wichita opens Saturday against Long Beach, Calif., State.

Vanderbilt, No. 6, breaks in against Rice Thursday. Syracuse and Vanderbilt, Nos. 7 and 8, have Wednesday dates with American University and Creighton, respectively, and St. John's, N.Y., No. 10, opens against Temple Saturday.

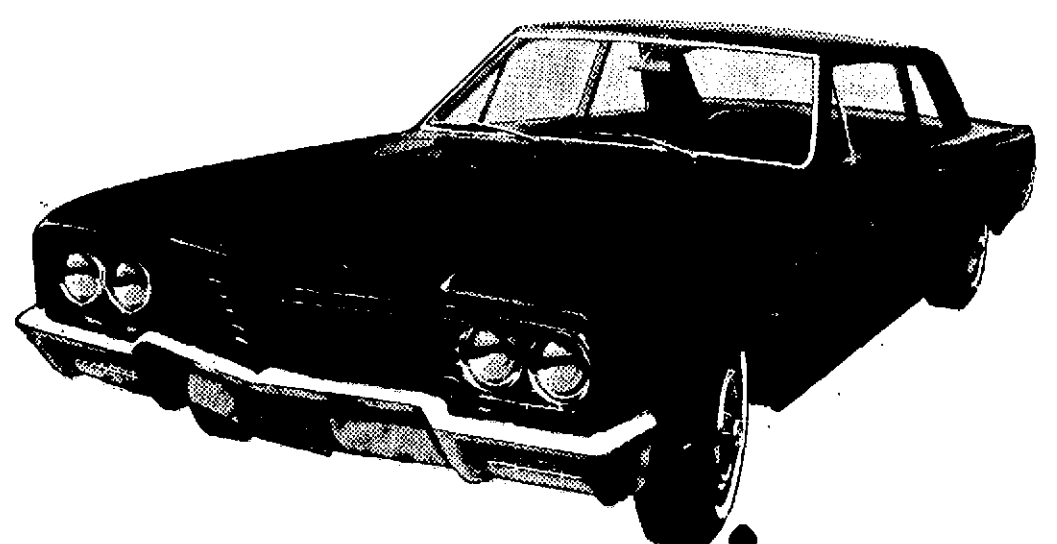

School that was all-winning in his junior and senior seasons.

While at Wittenberg, the only game his club did not win resulted in a tie.
